Japanese Liner Sails

San Francisco, Aug. 4—Hastening to leave U. S. waters before further complications should arise, the big Japanese luxury liner Tatuta Maru finally shook free of legal and diplomatic tangles and sailed out through the Golden Gate at dawn today, on her non-stop dash back to Tokyo.

She rode high, with only a minimum of ballast, in contrast to the heavy and valuable cargo which had weighed her down on her belated arrival and which was the basis for court actions that delayed sailing.

Emergency crews of stevedores worked up to the last minute loading the ballast, after removing the last of the cargo, and the vessel pulled away from her dock at the earliest possible moment.

12 Men Hurt in Union Disturbance

Uniontown, Pa., Aug. 4—Twelve men were injured and six trucks demolished early today as violence broke out when an independent union attempted to deliver mine timbers in the face of a CIO strike.

State motor police reported that six trucks were upset near Addison, about 20 miles east of Uniontown early this morning and that the injuries resulted from rioting which occurred at that time. None of the injured was hospitalized, however.

Joseph Yablonsky, CIO organizer for the lumber, timber and sawmill workers, organizing committee, was placed under arrest by State Police and charged with rioting and obstructing traffic on a highway.

State police claimed Yablonsky led the first assault on the moving trucks. It was reported approximately 50 men charged the trucks, removed the drivers and helpers and overturned the vehicles, which were loaded down with timber from the mills destined for river mines.

FIREMEN'S RELIEF ASS'N GETS MONEY FROM STATE

Two Percent Tax on Out-of-State Insurance Paid To Boroughs

BRISTOL TO GET $486.50

HARRISBURG, Aug. 4—Auditor General F. Clair Ross today approved payment of $446,625 in refunds from the Fire Insurance Tax Fund due relief associations of fire companies serving more than 1000 municipalities throughout the State.

Checks will be mailed as rapidly as they can be prepared, Mr. Ross said.

They represent 100 per cent refund of the two per cent tax on premiums of out-of-state fire insurance companies written in the respective municipalities during 1938; and will be paid to municipal officials who, under the law, are required to turn the money over to the relief association of the company or companies which provide their fire protection.

The funds then are used for the benefit of firemen injured in the line of duty or to aid the families of firemen who lose their lives in action.

Awards are made on the basis of calendar year collections and usually are paid from 12 to 15 months after the close of the year's business—thus allowing time for a proper audit of collections.

Sharing today's payments are 1034 municipalities. Payments totalling $37,374, due 239 other municipalities, are now in preparation and will be paid shortly; while payments to still another 149 municipalities will be further delayed because of the failure of

ANNOUNCE BIRTH OF DAUGHTER

A daughter was born this morning to Mr. and Mrs. William Bennett in the Hahnemann Hospital, Philadelphia. Mrs. Bennett was the former Miss Mary McFadden, Wood and Mulberry streets.

Here and There in Bucks County Towns

A native of Horsham Township, Elwood Paul, observed at the end of the week his 101st birthday anniversary. At present Mr. Paul is a resident of the Norristown Friends' home. He was born a half mile from Davis Grove in 1840.

Mr. Paul, the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Lukens Paul, had for some time lived with his late daughter, and with his son at Davis Grove. Mr. Paul's son, Harry Paul, formerly of Ambler, who is retired, also lives at the Friends' Home.

Mr. Paul was a charter member of Horsham Farmers' Club, and is a member of Horsham Friends' Meeting.

Last Summer, when Mr. Paul celebrated his 100th birthday anniversary, he filled his neighbors and friends with admiration by working on his lawn and caring for his chickens. At that time he occasionally moved the lawn. Until 13 years ago, Mr. Paul was a familiar figure on Ambler streets, driving his 1913 model automobile wherever he went.

When Mr. Paul was 60 years old he retired and spent the Winters in Florida.

The Pauls are an old Pennsylvania family descended from Quaker ancestry. He was a farmer for 27 years.

When Mr. Paul was 22 years old and during the second year of the Civil War, he enlisted at Harrisburg in Captain Samuel Conly's Wissahickon Cavalry Company. He furnished his own horse and equipment at his own expense. It happened that his company was not called into active service, and he was honorably discharged.

Belmont avenue, Doylestown, is being entirely rebuilt from Spruce to Cottage avenues. This is part of the borough's 1941 building plan for streets.

New curb and gutter were laid on the section last year.

Later work will be done on streets in Doylestown annex.

The engagement of Miss Evelyn Stadler, Pipersville, to Joseph Brucker, Jr., Plumsteadville, was announced by Miss Stadler's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Nicholas Stadler, last week. The occasion was a party which marked the young woman's 21st birthday anniversary.

Twenty-five Scouts and Scouters from Troop No. 18, Doylestown, left on Saturday for Camp Ockanickon where they are spending a week at the Bucks County Council camp.

Although many of the Scouts are scheduled to remain at camp only a week, a large delegation from the troop will remain until the closing of camp on August 16th. The Ladies' Auxiliary has planned to hold its annual camp picnic on Wednesday evening, August 6th, which will be stunt night at Ockanickon.

Assistant Scoutmaster Ben Larzere, Jr., a veteran camper at Buccoo and Ockanickon, will be the troop leader for the two week period. Assistant Scoutmaster "Dill" Darlington and Junior Assistant Scoutmaster Edgar Hayman complete the troop's senior staff.

The Scouts are divided into four patrols under the guidance of Patrol Leaders Clyde Leaver, Jay Foulkes, Harvey Shupe, and William Byrd. A four-point contest is held daily to determine the honor patrol of the day, and the patrol holding that honor the most times in one week will be designated as the honor patrol of the week.

In addition to the patrol leaders, Doylestown Scouts at Ockanickon include David Agency, Robert Bitzer, Jim Cotton, Bob Corser, Carl Dullabone, Everett Fretz, Bill Gradwohl, Bob Hansel, Russell Hamilton, Thawley Hayman, Fred Ingham, George Layman, Samuel Moore, Dean Schleicher, Lewis Shamberger, George Swartley, Harold Williams and Clay Estep.

MEMBERS OF BAR ENDORSE JUDGE BOYER'S CANDIDACY

One Hundred Percent of The Active Members Sign
Petition

NON-PARTISAN TRIBUTE

DOYLESTOWN, Aug. 4—One hundred per cent of the active members of the Bucks County Bar have signed the petition "endorsing and advocating" the candidacy of Judge Calvin S. Boyer for re-election to the judgeship of the Bucks County court.

The circulation of the petition is said to have been wholly a voluntary action on the part of the attorneys, 51 of whom signed the petition without request.

The sentiments of the lawyers individually and as a body are expressed in the statement which precedes their signatures, as follows:

"The following members of the Bucks County Bar endorse and advocate the candidacy of the Honorable Calvin S. Boyer, Judge of the Courts of Bucks County, for re-election at the forthcoming General Election in November, 1941.

Attractive Wedding In St. Ann's Church

A company of relatives and friends, gathered in St. Ann's R. C. Church yesterday morning at 11 o'clock, witnessed the nuptial high mass, which united Miss Margaret Minni, 433 Washington street, and Mr. Stephen Brescia, 232 Franklin street, as man and wife. The former Miss Minni is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carman Minni, and Mr. Brescia is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Rosario Brescia.

The Rev. Father Peter Pinci officiated; and Miss Frances Tamburella presided at the organ console. The bride was given in marriage by her father.

Attendants of the bride were Miss Theresa Brescia, Beaver street, niece of the groom, as maid of honor; Miss Patricia Sozio, Washington street, and Miss Rose Ruggieri, Lafayette street, bridesmaids; and little Rita Rubino, niece of the bride, as flower girl. Mr. Dominick DiNunzio, Garden street, was best man for Mr. Brescia; and the usher was Mr. John Minni, brother of the bride.

The bridal gown was made of white sparkle marquisette, the gown having a sweetheart neckline, and detachable sleeves. It featured a train. Her crown of net was enhanced at the front with a cluster of orange blossoms, this holding a veil of tulle. Her bouquet was made up of white rosebuds, orchids and baby breath.

The maid of honor and two bridesmaids wore gowns fashioned alike, but in different hues. Miss Brescia wore blue; Miss Sozio, yellow; and Miss Ruggieri, orchid. The gowns were patterned like that worn by the bride, but without trains. Each maid wore a bonnet matching her gown, the streamers which tied in bows at the back of the head, being in contrasting colors. Satin slippers matched the gowns, and each attendant carried a bouquet of yellow roses and baby breath. The flower girl wore yellow marquisette, the floor length skirt having a short train. Her yellow bonnet tied in a bow under the chin, and her bouquet was formed of yellow rosebuds.

The wedding breakfast was served to members of the bridal party at the home of the bride's parents, immediately after the ceremony; with dinner arranged at the Keystone Hotel for the same party at four p. m. Last evening a reception occurred in Mutual Aid Hall.

Upon their return from Niagara Falls, Mr. Brescia and bride will reside with the former's parents. To the maid of honor and bridesmaids, Mrs. Brescia gave triple strands of pearls; and to the flower girl a gold cross and chain. Mr. Brescia presented his attendants with tie pin sets.

It has had many illustrious commanders. The present commander is Colonel Isaac Gill, Jr. It was the first regiment to arrive in Fort Custer last Fall, and the first to be assigned to the 5th Division, and then came the other regiments and special troops, until the division was entirely activated.

Mrs. Andrew G. Solla and son Calvin, who have been visiting Major Solla at Fort Custer, Mich., have taken an apartment in Battle Creek, and will remain there until the 5th Division goes to Louisiana for Fall maneuvers.

"GAS" DEALERS HERE SUPPORT NEW CURFEW

Stations Close at 7 P. M., in Compliance With Request of Government

REPORT BUSY WEEK-END

Gasoline retailers here complied with the request of the Government not to sell gasoline after seven o'clock, last night, and until seven o'clock, this morning. The new rule did not appear to embarrass many motorists. Some of the service stations remained open to handle repair jobs, flat tires and attend to such other minor troubles. One motorist was observed driving along Pond street with a flat tire but this was the only instance of trouble noticed locally.

Bristol gasoline retailers so far as the sale of gasoline was concerned closed 100 per cent, said Joseph Barton, secretary-treasurer of the local dealers association today. "Some garages remained open," stated Mr. Barton, "this was done where the storage of cars had to be handled and where utility companies keep their trucks."

It was also stated that no employees are being laid off here due to the new closing hours as their services will be required to handle a business rush which now takes place between four p. m. and seven p. m.

Most persons are employed during the day now and do not get away from their employment until four o'clock in the afternoon. They rush for a filling station and get their tanks filled before the curfew hour.

Gasoline dealers here reported an exceptionally busy week-end and one dealer stated that he sold more gasoline than any week-end since 1936 when he made a record for gallons sold.

THE GREAT GAME OF POLITICS

By FRANK R. KENT

Threat From The Inside

Washington, Aug. 2.

ATTENTION is again called to the fact that while the stories of work stoppages through strikes in defense plants now appear infrequently on the first pages of the newspapers, this does not mean either that they have ceased or that labor relations have improved. Not by a long shot. It simply means that other developments—Russia, Japan, etc.—have outweighed them in news value; that the strikes are less sensational in character; that, through familiarity, the public interest has waned.

THE latter was bound to occur. Nevertheless, it is a pity, because the loss of man days steadily piles up and gradually the grip of an intolerable labor tyranny is fastening itself on the country. In the period from January 1 to July 1 there were 187 strikes, costing 2,458,156 man days on defense contracts. In the week from July 20 to 27 there were 23 strikes, involving 15,099 employees. In the last five days two additional strikes affecting naval work have occurred.

ONE of these is at Key West, where the construction of new naval bases has been halted because 600 AFL carpenters walked out in sympathy with 800 Negro laborers who wanted more money. The boss of the local carpenters' union said he never had heard of an AFL order outlawing strikes on defense projects. The other was the city-wide strike of electrical workers which, for part of the week, stalled the $17,000,000 expansion program of the Brooklyn Navy Yard. Some of these strikes will be certified to the President's Mediation Board; some will not be. All of them, however, will be settled by concessions to the unions.

Aided by Red Cross in Learning of Families' Welfare

REQUIRED 8 MONTHS

Through the medium of the American Red Cross and the International Red Cross, the family of Albert Mathis, Washington avenue, Croydon, has been able to contact relatives in Alsace, from whom the family had heard no news in over two years.

Mrs. Mathis was exceedingly anxious to learn of the welfare of her sister, Mrs. Luise Myer, and of her brother, Ernest Schuttis. She contacted the Red Cross representatives at the Bristol Branch headquarters, on December 4th last. Forms were filled in, and sent through national Red Cross headquarters to the International Red Cross at Geneva, Switzerland. On April 19th Mrs. Myer was contacted, and on April 28th, the Red Cross contacted Mr. Schuttis.

Messages have just been received by Mrs. Marie Holland, at Bristol Red Cross office, for the Mathis family, who were overjoyed to learn of the whereabouts and safety of members of their families. There was one note of sadness, however, when they learned that a brother of Mr. Mathis had died.

The message from Mrs. Myer follows: "Dear Sister and Brother-in-Law: 'We are all well and together. On October 17, 1940, Jacques Mathis died after a short stomach illness.'"

"Apr. 19, 1941."
"SISTER LUISE."
From Ernest Schuttis the following message came: "At last, after two years, signs of life. We were very glad to know that you were all well. Likewise in our home in the beautiful land of Alsace."
"Apr. 28, 1941."

"ERNEST."
Mrs. Myer is living at Wittenheim, Alsace; and Mr. Schuttis is at Bitschwiller on Thann, Alsace.

HIGH TIDE OF SUMMER

Now comes the month when summer drags its days of weary heat slowly toward the cool of autumn. July is gone. September waits ahead. August, the early afternoon of summer, is upon us.

Hot days and humid nights have laid their steaming hands on the Northern Hemisphere in weeks just past, and hot days are still to come. August often brings the peak of summer heat. But August heat is easier to withstand, somehow, perhaps because relief is just around the bend. Besides, the days of August bring a new note in nature, a note for which the months just gone have marked the way. Fledglings take to wings, berries ripen, spring crops bow to the harvester and the leaved flowers which forego the urge to quick, lush bloom put forth their richer blossoms in a world of vanished daisies. Rural roads are perfumed with the scent of hay fields.

Summer approaches the time when it will turn over to the days of autumn the completion of that task which it received from spring. August is a season of nature's pledges nearing redemption and not even the leftover heat of burning July can make man unaware of the autumn days which lie ahead.

PRODIGIOUS PROFESSOR

George Lyman Kittredge probably was the world's greatest Shakespearean scholar. Indeed, Professor Kittredge, himself, acknowledged that he was precisely that—and the world's greater student of Chaucer, too. Scholars on both sides of the Atlantic were inclined to agree with the brilliant and picturesque Harvard don's self-diagnosis.

Aside from his scholarship, which admittedly was superb, George Lyman Kittredge was one of the most compelling and interesting personalities in the long history of his university. Generation after generation of Harvard undergraduates attended his most famous course—English II—and came out of it with a greatly enhanced familiarity with two unique personages, Shakespeare and Kittredge.

Nobody coughed in English II—or rather, if anybody coughed, he abruptly departed from that session of the class. Professor Kittredge had no narrow prejudice against coughing. He admitted that he occasionally coughed before a lecture or after a lecture—but never during a lecture. On the one occasion when Professor Kittredge broke his own rule, he summarily dismissed himself from the class. He spoke without notes and always timed his lecture to a split second from the opening bell to the closing one, delivering his final sentence as he walked down the aisle and out of the door, his green bag in his hand.

As striking in appearance as he was in manner, the tall, spare scholar, with his flowing, snowy beard, had become a Harvard legend long before he ended his active teaching about five years ago. Nor did his fame rest on his picturesque idiosyncrasies. Learned men on the faculties of universities throughout the world looked to Kittredge of Harvard as a final authority not only on Shakespeare, but on Beowulf, on Chaucer and on the whole treasure-house of the English language and literature through the centuries.

Dead at the age of 81, George Lyman Kittredge leaves English literature enriched by his scholarship—and leaves Harvard enriched by the traditions which center around this unique and beloved teacher.

ECHOES OF THE PAST

By Courier Staff Member

Review of the news as it appeared in the Bucks County Gazette issue dated at Bristol Nov. 6, 1879. The Gazette, a weekly newspaper published in Bristol, was discontinued following its merger with the Courier.

Nathan Tyler's store was robbed on Monday night of clothing valued at between $500 and $600. The burglars pried off the fastenings of the front door and walked right in. A bundle of clothing, about $15 worth, was found on the railroad track a mile above Bristol, and picked up by the conductor of the four o'clock train Tuesday morning, and taken to Trenton. The package was returned to Mr. Tyler, but nothing has been learned of the rest of his goods. It is supposed that the thieves were some tramps who were noticed on the streets on Monday evening. Besides robbing Mr. Tyler, they broke into Henry Rue's carpenter shop and built a fire but did not find anything to excite their cupidity, as nothing was stolen.

On last Friday morning a frame house on Pond street caught fire on the roof from a spark from a locomotive. The fire extended to the roofs of three other houses which were joined to the first, and when the alarm was given it seemed as if all the houses were in great danger of being destroyed. The hook and ladder boys were quickly on hand, however, and by keeping the flames down by the use of buckets, until the No. 1 firemen got the engine into operation, the buildings were saved. The roofs were badly damaged, and the walls and plastering inside saturated with water but not seriously. Three of the houses were owned by William Hawk, and the other by James Ryan.

"Calvin S. Boyer is a native son of Bucks county, born at Springfield, in Springfield township, April 8, 1876. In June, 1930, Judge Boyer was appointed Additional Law Judge to succeed Judge Hiram H. Keller, who then was appointed President Judge. He was elected in 1931 for a term of 10 years.

"He is an unusually industrious Judge, alert and punctilious in the performance of all his judicial duties, with a zealous regard for the rights of the litigants before him, and his unflinching courtesy and sense of fair play has endeared him to the members of the Bar.

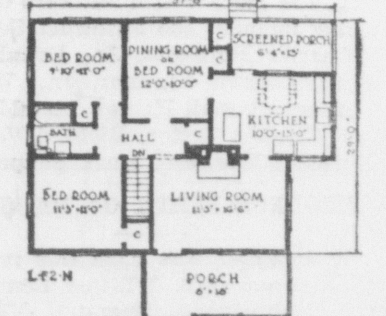

"It is a pleasure and a privilege to pay this tribute to an able, conscientious and upright Judge."

SMALL COUNTRY HOUSE

A pleasing feature of this small farm house design, one of a series sponsored by the National Homes Foundation, is that the kitchen receives light and air from three directions. The screened, rear porch, shielded on two sides by the house walls, becomes almost another room and is so placed that it costs less to build than a more open porch. The plan is arranged to permit the fifth room to be used either as a dining room or bedroom. Direct access from this room to hall and kitchen relieve the living room of traffic. If three bedrooms are needed, the kitchen, living room, or rear porch all offer dining space. Miss Myrtle W. Egly Becomes
Bride of Mr. Harry L. Beck

HULMEVILLE, Aug. 4—A week-end wedding of interest here was that of Miss Myrtle W. Egly, daughter of Mr. John C. Egly, Jr., Lincoln avenue, to Mr. Harry L. Beck, Parkland, son of Mr. Harry Beck, of Fox Chase.

The ceremony was solemnized in Neshaminy Methodist Church, Saturday afternoon, at the hour of two o'clock, with the Rev. Woodrow W. Kern, pastor of Bensalem Methodist Church, officiating.

The former Miss Egly was given in marriage by her father, she approaching the altar as the Lohengrin wedding march was played by organist, Miss Clara L. Illick. The vocalist for the occasion was Mrs. Orville Morris, whose offerings were "Because" and "I Love You Truly."

Attending the bride as maid of honor was Miss Adeline E. Reetz, Hulmeville; and the bridesmaid was Miss Jane Buckley, Bridgetown, niece of the bride. Mr. Beck had as his groomsmen, Mr. Joseph DeBrida, of Gardenville; and the usher was Mr. C. Wesley Haefer.

The altar of the edifice was attractive with palms and flowers.

The white marquisette gown chosen by the bride for the nuptial ceremony, was lace trimmed. Bands of lace enhanced the square neckline, extending across the shoulders of her long sleeves. Lace also formed the fitted cuffs; and lace inserts were used as attractive trim at the waist-line. The gown featured a long, full train.

ON THE SCREENS

GRAND THEATRE

Hal Roach's third picture in his famous Topper series is the brilliantly produced and directed mystery-comedy, called "Topper Returns," which was unveiled at a gala premiere last night at the Grand Theatre under the auspices of United Artists. This latest Roach offering, which is based on an original story by Jonathan Latimer, carries the famous characters created by the late Thorne Smith into further laugh-packed channels of fun and hilarity.

"Topper Returns" is an excellent blend of mystery and comedy, with crackling dialogue, eerie situations and spell-binding action. It was smartly directed by Roy Del Ruth and keeps the audience nailed to its seats with suspense that gallops and is interspersed with punchy humor. Roland Young and Billie Burke are back as Cosmo Topper and his not-so-bright wife, the roles in which they scored in the two preceding Roach hits, "Topper" and "Topper Takes a Trip."

BRISTOL THEATRE

Starring the season's most sensational hit team, beautiful Madeleine Carroll and fun-loving Fred MacMurray, Edward H. Griffith, producer-director, has turned out a comedy story of Europe's last gay city, "One Night in Lisbon," which opened at the Bristol Theatre.

Fred MacMurray plays the part of an American aviator who ferries bombers across the Atlantic to the RAF. He falls harder than a parachutist for Madeleine Carroll, glamorous volunteer chauffeur to a British Foreign Office official.

Today's Quiet Moment

(By the Rev. James R. Galley)
Pastor, Bristol Presbyterian Church

Almighty God, who through the hand of Thy Son Jesus Christ didst open the eyes of the blind and cause them to see; open Thou our eyes that we might behold Thee. Allow us not to be dimmed by the brilliance of worldly things, but let us see Thee in all Thy glory, standing always ready to help and to deliver those who call upon Thee in faith, believing, Through Jesus Christ Thy Son, Amen.

Her tiara of pearls held a long veil of net, this being edged in lace, with wide lace inserts appearing at the end of the train. With this costume she wore a single strand of pearls, and carried a bouquet of white roses and baby breath.

Miss Reetz, the maid of honor, wore pink marquisette, her gown being patterned like that worn by the bride, with the exception that the floor-length skirt was minus a train. To a head-dress of pink flowers was attached a pink shoulder-length veil of net. Her colonial bouquet was composed of pink roses and blue delphinium. Her slippers were gold toned. Miss Buckley, the bridesmaid, wore blue organza, the floor-length model having short sleeves. Her blue net veil was held in place by a cluster of flowers arranged on her hair, and her slippers were white. Miss Buckley carried a colonial bouquet of yellow roses and blue delphinium.

A dinner was served to members of the bridal party, at the Mary Gray Tea Room, Trenton, N. J., Mr. and Mrs. Beck then leaving for a motor trip to the New England states. The bride's travelling costume included a jacket, dress of green and white print sheer, brown hat and white accessories. The newlyweds will reside with Mrs. Beck's father, here.

GROCERIES ..and GUNS

EVERY day we Americans make millions of telephone calls—they may be for groceries or grass seed, pins or paint, coal or cold cream.

But today, there are thousands and thousands of other calls going over our wires—calls concerned with the defense of America! These calls may speed the construction of army camps, the delivery of machine guns and munitions—or even the building of a battleship or bomber!

This new load of telephone traffic is important to every American family. It must get a clear track and full speed ahead!

And so we ask that every telephone user cooperate to keep telephone service smooth and fast!

HERE ARE SOME SUGGESTIONS:

1. Be sure to wait for the dial tone on every call.
2. Don't trust to memory or to old lists for telephone numbers. It's best to look in the directory and make sure.
3. Answer the telephone promptly.
4. When you make a call, give the called party enough time to answer before "hanging up."

5. Try to avoid unnecessarily long conversations, especially if you are on a party line.
6. Be sure to hang up the instrument after every call. Failure to do so means your line is "busy"—though it may be doing nothing!

Your cooperation will speed the service that speeds defense!

Complete Change of Bouts Booked for St. Ann's Arena Tonight

ORRINO VS. TRAINER

Every Bout Booked is A Leader and Fans Will Get Real Thrills

In a card which promises thrills from start to finish, seven boys from this section are matched with opponents from the various clubs of Philadelphia, at the St. Ann's A. A. arena, Wood and Franklin streets. The bouts are under the jurisdiction of the Middle Atlantic district of the A. A. U. which has issued a permit for the show.

The program of bouts is completely changed from the one that was scheduled for last Monday night but called off because of rain. It was learned that Frankie Lowry who was booked to fight Carman Orrino has a bout scheduled elsewhere and could not appear.

But Match-maker Johnny Raccagno lost no time in finding a capable substitute in the person of Joe Trainer, who fights under the colors of the John O'Mally A. A. Both Orrino and Trainer are being groomed as the next A. A. U. 160 pound champion and this bout will be especially important for Orrino as the Subold fighter cannot stand a setback now that he has reached the top rung of the ladder.

Showing that he fears no one, Al Turner, the colored jumping-jack from Fallington, is booked to meet the hard-hitting Leo Arcure, of the Penmar Club. Turner fought the Inquirer A. A. champion in his last start but Arcure is supposed to be the hardest-hitting 118-pounder in the game today.

Turner fights for the Diamond team. The Seibold Club introduced a new boy in George Yaffe who is scheduled to meet Rocco Brocco, Pen-mar. Walt Kerstein, also of the Seibold Club, will try to win another bout when he fights Dick Putnick, of Pen-mar.

Dave Montgomery, Diamond, who has won his last two bouts, will face a stiff foe in George Bennett, Pen-mar. And Bill McCollick, Diamond, is matched with Dominick Baca, Pen-mar. It is getting to be harder all the time to secure bouts for McCollick who has built a fine reputation for himself in the amateur game.

Clem Kinsey, the hardest hitting youngster to don the gloves and represent this section for quite some time is booked to meet Don Bailey, of the Passon Club. Bailey is well-known in Philadelphia and has defeated some of the best in the game. This will be a "natural" for the Diamond and Passon clubs.

In other bouts, Joe Cola, Passon, meets Joe Wharton, Eastside; John Lovett, Passon, fights Harry Murray, Mt. Holly A. A.

First bout gets under way at 8.45 p. m. sharp.

not only in the matter of wages but in union recognition in other directions considered more important by the labor bosses.

THAT has been the practically uniform result of every defense strike since the first one. At the rate things are going, before another year has passed these professional labor bosses will have made great progress toward their main objective, which is the compulsory unionization of all labor. When this is achieved, no worker can get a job unless he belongs to the union. That is another way of saying that no employer can hire or keep hired anyone not a union member. What that means, of course, is the completely closed shop. Along with the "check-off," by which dues are automatically deducted from the weekly pay envelope and turned over to the union by the employer, the completely closed shop is the long-cherished dream of every labor racketeer.

NOT until recently, however, has any realistic labor boss believed that this dream could come true. Now many of them do, and they are pretty excited about the prospect. Because they know that once it is realized their power is practically limitless. Once let it be translated into fact and the authority of the employer over his own business would be altogether gone. He would be unable to resist any demand made upon him by the unions, which then would have taken over the business of the country. Even now the Administration is dominated and Congress cowed by the political power of the labor lobbies. Consider the situation if this power should be doubled, as it unquestionably would be if that closed-shop dream should come completely true.

IT is a pretty appalling prospect, but no one can deny that great strides toward that goal have been taken in the last few months and that every week the new strikes and new concessions bring it closer. It is clear that the labor bosses have been using the national emergency to push their plans. It is clear, too, that they have had Administration encouragement in doing so. It was the White House attitude which months ago blocked the legislation that would have outlawed defense strikes. The same attitude prevented modification of the Wagner Act, which hampers the defense contractor at every turn.

THUS protected, it is not surprising the labor leaders are squeezing every possible advantage out of the situation. In every strike settlement the compromise always gives the aggressor something. As the unions have been the aggressors in every defense strike, they have gotten all or part of what they asked in every settlement. Except in one case, every strike settled by the Mediation Board has been settled by forcing the employer to yield to all or some of the labor demands. In four months the board has forced wage increases of more than $100,000,000. And, in the same period, without committing itself to the principle, it has helped the unions considerably toward their closed-shop goal.

THE charge has been made that the board has become the chief instrument for enforcement of New Deal labor policy and that it has compelled employers, in several cases, to accept NLRB rulings without opportunity to test their validity in court. This may or may not be true, but a cold survey of the facts makes these conclusions seem inescapable: First, that the real profiteers developed by the defense program are not the industrialists but the labor leaders; second, that, despite their patriotic protests, these are capitalizing a national crisis for their own purposes; third, that the result has been to add enormously to the cost of the program in dollars and to lose an immense amount of vitally important time; fourth, that these things have happened partly because of White House coddling of labor leaders, partly because so many of these leaders have been placed in key defense positions, partly because their political link with the New Deal is so strong that one always supports the other. When these things are considered it does not seem unfair to say that the threat to what we so fondly call the "American system" is not all from the outside.

This well-known localite, who on August 7th will be 79 years of age, was born near Mt. Bethel. Some years later he resided in Newtown, moving to Bristol in the early Spring of 1888, just as the famed blizzard was melting. He resided in Bristol borough for approximately 32 years, then moved to Bristol Township.

During the first few years of his residence here, he was engaged in blacksmith work with the late Wilson Randall. Later he was employed in the Thomas Hughes hosiery mill. On April 25, 1893, he entered the employ of Prudential Life Insurance Company, and for a period of 20 years served in various capacities for that company, including special agent, inspector, and superintendent of the Bristol office. Then for 28 years he was connected with the Industrial Life Insurance Company of Philadelphia, serving for times as agent, superintendent, inspector, here. In 1938 he "retired" from life insurance business, as he terms it; but continued to represent the Penn Mutual Fire Insurance Company, of West Chester, which firm he had also represented for many years. In all he has to date been connected with the latter firm for 36 years, he still being agent for Bristol district.

In the days of the "bicycle craze," Mr. Smith recalls riding many, many miles to make business calls. Later he owned a sorrel horse, and attached this to a "buggy" for business purposes. For a time he and the late George Phipps owned jointly a horse and carriage. Mr. Smith first drove a motor car in 1923, and in the past 18 years has owned seven or eight automobiles.

DIAMOND VS. AUTO BOYS

Rohm & Haas May Climb Into the Pack Fighting For Lead

The Edgely team has replaced Diamond as the new leader of the Bristol Suburban League. The two defeats suffered by Diamond last week put a big dent in their standing and now they are one-half game away from Edgely and hold but a few points lead on the Badenhausen team.

This evening, the Diamond team will meet the Auto Boys nine on Landreth's field and two colored boys will oppose each other on the mound. Manager Diamanti intends to use Al Driver on the mound, while Henny Morgan will start "Loggie" Bragg. Driver is unbeaten in the Suburban League.

If successful against the Voltz-Texaco team in their game at Maple Beach, the Rohm & Haas team will have a chance to climb right into the pack of the league leaders. The chemical workers are running behind in their schedule but are not out of the race for the second half crown.

Wils Holland or Herm Pluma will pitch for the chemical workers with Hal Shackleton throwing them up for the gasoleers.

St. Ann's has a chance to climb from the depths of the cellar if they could beat the Odd Fellows in their tilt. The St. Ann's team will be in eighth place if they beat the Oddies, with the latter club dropping into the cellar.

"Mike" DeRisi will pitch for St. Ann's, being opposed by either Turner Ashby or Milt Jones.

Quarry Worker Admits Attack

Lock Haven, Aug. 4 — Police announced today that a quarry worker admitted having attacked pretty Geo-gianna Welty, 23, Lock Haven drug store employee.

The suspect, Ernest Schwab, 38, who is employed in Williamsport, was held for a hearing today. A second man, Clarence Ringer, was detained as a material witness.

The assault on Miss Welty was the fourth such incident in the Lock Haven area in the past six weeks. The young woman aided police by furnishing an excellent description of her assailant.

State Police indicated Schwab would be questioned in connection with recent molestations of women here and in Centre County, scene of the unsolved slaying of Rachel Taylor, Pennsylvania State College coed.

A high-light of the afternoon was the appearance of a most unique four-piece orchestra, composed of four colored men garbed as farmers. One played an antique bass violin; a second had attached to a wind instrument, an old-fashioned horn formerly used on a phonograph; the third played a violin; and the fourth a washboard, which he "played" by means of thimbles. To the washboard were attached a desk bell, frying pans, and other "gadgets."

The address by Mr. Burdick was upon "The Trend of Dairying and Thoughts on the Future." He told of the scarcity of good pure-bred cattle today; mentioned the increasing prices; and of the need to breed good cattle.

William Reed, the second speaker, is herd superintendent at the DuPont Farms, at Winterthur, Del. His subject was "Herd Management."

A few moments of silence were observed in memory of Lewis Satterthwaite, late of Newtown; and Joseph P. Canby, late of Bensalem Township. The two were members of the association, and also pioneer breeders. Mr. Canby was the father of Joseph O. Canby.

The next meeting will be in the form of a dinner, to be served at Doylestown in February.
